Not illustrated. 1918 Excerpt: .just to trust the method of differences here, but rather to consider the simple difference between averages. The average 63 for the normal period 2 is deducted from the average of 88 for the alcohol period 2, resulting in a difference of +25 (see section in). The differences between averages for the other periods are +15, +14, +20, and +48, with an average for all periods following the dose of +20. The probable correctness figures apply to these differences and are in every case of such size as to give them a good degree of reliability. The memory data, presented in whatever way we chose, shows that with this particular memory test and in the particular form used there is a better performance following the alcohol. This confirms the re 1 It should be noted that there were only 4 periods on June 29. suits obtained...
